Subject: [EXTERNAL] Feeling guilty

August 22, 6 P.M.

Donald:

I am feeling at least 50 percent guilty as the cause of the "sharp turn mishap" at the entrance to the Golf Course earlier today, and I'll be happy to share the expense of getting the damage repaired.

In the meantime, attached are some photos that I took at the recent Caboose installation by City Hall.

Best,

Uncle Robert

Uncle Robert:

I appreciate the sentiment but it is 100% my fault for having inexplicably run over the stones inside the driveway - I doubt I will even take it to a body shop to repair, at least not in the near term.

Amazing photos - hard to believe it all came together so quickly. I stood next to the caboose when we took a lap through the Pioneer Days festivities and was amazed at how tall the top of the caboose was when standing next to it. The power and might of the railroad was hard to ignore.

Steamy hot here today - find myself looking forward to fall more and more with each passing day!

Talk soon,
Donald
